RESEARCH METHODOLOGY
This paper is based upon review of literature and secondary data collected from various websites, journals, news papers and reference books. Literature review has shown prior research work done in this area. Informal discussions/ deliberation with educationists have also been conducted and their views have also been incorporated.

LITERATURE REVIEW
Roy (2011) suggested that value education in HEIs should be given adequate importance in restructuring the existing education policies. Then only we can think for a better tomorrow in this already endangered crises accentuating world. Sekhar and Eremanel (2012) highlighted that there is a need for imparting value-based education with a spiritual bent of mind in educational institutions to churn out good citizens. Imbuing the qualities of good conduct, self-confidence and high values would help students earn a significant place in society. Sindhwani and Kumar (2013) stated that value means primarily to prize, to esteem, to appraise, to estimate, it means the act of cherishing something, holding it dear and also the act of passing judgment upon the nature and amounts of values as compared with something else. Bhattia and Dash (2013) remarked that there is a need of value based higher education system which empowers youth for self sustainability by inculcating employment skills and hence reducing poverty. Gandhi (2014) observed that there is the growing concern over the erosion of essential values and an increasing cynicism in society has brought to focus the need for readjustments in the curriculum in order to make education a forceful tool for the cultivation of social and moral values.

EDUCATION POLICY AND VALUE EDUCATION
The University Education Commission (1948) regard both philosophical as well as practical aspects of values and made certain valuable proposals for reforms in this respect. The Secondary Education Commission (1922-53) emphasized on values like efficiency, integrity, discipline, cooperation and good temper and found that these are essential in the formation of character of the students. The National Policy on Education (1986), in its chapter VIII clearly mentioned its growing concern over the lack of values and realized an urgent need for readjustments in the curriculum to cultivate social and moral values. It further highlighted boldly that education should foster universal and eternal values, oriented towards the unity and integration of our people. Such value education should enable to eliminate obscurantism, religious fanaticism, violence, superstition and fatalism. Value education has a profound positive content, based on our heritage, national and universal goals and perceptions. The Committee of Emotional Integration talked about mutual appreciation of the various religions in the country spiritual values, national unity and the unity of mankind. The Education Commission also put lots of stress on the inculcation of the values of cooperation and mutual regard, honesty and integrity, discipline and social responsibility. UGC (2003) also realized that it is very necessary to inculcate human values in the students of HEIs, like quest for peace, adherence to truth and right to conduct, non-violence, compassion, tolerance, love for all living beings, respect for Motherland and the glory of its culture and traditions in order to promote societal and responsible citizenship.

NEED AND IMPORTANCE OF VALUE EDUCATION
In Higher Education, there is a great need to change the objectives and content as to give due Weightage to value systems. In the present globalized context of scientific and technological advancements, education system needs to be redefined, reorganized, reshaped and recharged. Values have to be inculcated among the students for promoting equality, social justice, national cohesion and democratic citizenship. Value education promotes the cultural factor within human being. The educationist have to frame a value driven programme to prepare a student to understand, adopt and adhere to values for rich, satisfactory and meaningful individual and social life. We have to indentify values, in terms of personal, behavioral, ethical and social values. An action plan can be followed through various co-curricular activities towards application of the value to daily situations. Value based education is required at all levels colleges. The role of administrations, teachers and supporting staff is very important to build a positive atmosphere to develop values. Values cannot be developed through teaching only hence it is necessary that a student should live in the atmosphere of value consciousness.

CONCLUDING REMARKS
Without effective value-education the country may face crisis of character. Value Education needs to be inculcated in Higher Education Institutions. The universities and colleges can play a lead role in Value Orientation. There should be provision of value based education; designing value based curriculum; designing special orientation program for teachers; value based foundation courses; necessity to develop code of conduct for teachers and students; inculcation of philosophical view towards life among teachers and students. In this regard a number of college programmers should be organized with care, enthusiasm and imagination for promotion of values among the students. All the academic institutions of learning should remain conscious while implementing ‘values’ as to meet with the particular objective of that particular institute. Therefore, Value Education should be given prime importance in restructuring the existing education policies.
